Samaroli has been the first „Independent Bottler“ outside of Scotland, who has begun in 1968 to buy selected whisky barrels from different distilleries in Scotland to store or to bottle them. The most important competence of an „Independent Bottler“ is to choose casks of best quality. Samaroli has that talent and also enough experience because of his work in wine trade. So his bottlings of the last decades became extraordinary and also some kind of legendary. His whiskies are part of the most frequented whiskies in the world. Samaroli whiskies and rums are neither cold-filtered nor artificial colored.
